Information regarding containment measures for residents of a part of the Desjardins electoral district

Boisbriand, April 16, 2020 — Yesterday, April 15, the Québec government decreed the renewal of the health emergency orders. All measures in place are therefore renewed, including the measure concerning the containment of residents of a part of the Desjardins electoral district in the city of Boisbriand made up of Beth-Halevy Street, Tash Road, Steiner Court, Anne Frank Street, André-Ouellet Square, Olsen Passage, Moishe Avenue and Komarno Place.

In addition, as of April 17, 2020, the Laurentian's Director of Public Health, Dr. Éric Goyer, has authorized the residents of this sector to leave it for access to essential services (groceries, pharmacy, banking services and medical care) while following certain specific guidelines, including strict application of hygiene measures, physical distancing (2 metres) outside the home as well as a limitation on the number of people entering essential service locations. Moreover, only individuals without COVID-19-like symptoms who are not under isolation instructions are able to leave the sector.

"We believe that these instructions will contribute to the protection of residents of the sector and of the entire municipality," said the Director of Public Health for the Laurentians, Dr. Éric Goyer.

"We continue to work in collaboration with the Laurentian Public Health Department. The situation continues to be monitored and the police are present on the territory to ensure the protection of the entire population. Everyone must follow the instructions, it is the best way to limit the spread of the virus," said the mayor, Marlene Cordato.

Due to the COVID-19 situation, the Minister of Health and Social Services has limited access to many cities and regions to protect the health of the population.

Since March 20, 2020, the Thérèse-De Blainville inter-municipal police board (RIPTB) can issue tickets to anyone contravening decree number 222-2020 which prohibits some inside or outside gatherings.

Finally, if you have COVID-19-like symptoms such as fever, cough, breathing problems or a sudden loss of the sense of smell, you are encouraged to contact the COVID-19 hotline at 1-877-644-4545.
